

Canada Student's Tax Checklist

Before getting started, please prepare the following documents:

PERSONAL INFORMATION

- Social Insurance Number (SIN)
- Personal information (Full name, Date of Birth (DOB), Address, postal code, Marital Status)
- Spouse or Common-law partner information (if applicable)
- Dependent/s information (if applicable)
- Spouse and child net income (if applicable)
- Preferred Direct Deposit (if applicable)
- Previous Year's Notice of Assessment: this can help reference important information needed for your current return.

INCOME SLIPS

- T4 (Statement of Remuneration Paid): You should receive a T4 slip from each employer you worked for during the tax year. This slip summarizes your employment income, deductions, and taxes withheld.
- T4A (Statement of Pension, Retirement, Annuity, and Other Income): If you received scholarships, bursaries, or other awards, you'd likely receive a T4A slip for reporting this income.
- T5 (Statement of Investment Income): If you earned investment income, such as interest, dividends, or capital gains, you might receive a T5 slip for reporting these amounts.

- T3 (Statement of Trust Income Allocations and Designations): If you received income from a trust, you may receive a T3 slip detailing these amounts.
- T5007 (Statement of Benefits): If you received social assistance payments or workers' compensation benefits, you may receive a T5007 slip detailing these amounts.
- Any other slips or income not reported on a slip, like tips (if applicable)

RECEIPTS

- T2202A (Tuition, Education, and Textbook Amounts Certificate): This form is issued by your educational institution and is used to claim tuition and education amounts on your tax return.
- Receipts for Educational Expenses: Keep receipts for other eligible educational expenses, such as textbooks, supplies, and mandatory fees.
- Receipts for Moving Expenses (if applicable): If you moved to attend school full-time and your new home is at least 40 kilometres closer to your new school, you may be able to claim moving expenses.

- RRSP contributions (if applicable)
- Receipts for Charitable Donations (if applicable): If you donated to registered charities, you could claim a tax credit for these contributions. Keep receipts for any donations made during the tax year.
- Receipts for Medical Expenses (if applicable): Certain medical expenses may be eligible for a tax credit. Keep receipts for prescription medications, dental services, and other eligible expenses.
- Receipts for Employment Expenses (if applicable): If you have eligible employment expenses, such as vehicle expenses, supplies, professional and Union dues not included on your T4 slip and Exams for professional certification, you'll need to gather receipts to support these deductions.
- T2200 (Declaration of Conditions of Employment) (if applicable): If you have expenses related to your employment that your employer does not reimburse, you may need to complete a T2200 form signed by your employer to claim these expenses.
- Receipts for Childcare Expenses (if applicable): Keep receipts for childcare expenses paid during the tax year. Eligible childcare expenses may include daycare fees, babysitting services, and after-school programs.
- Support payments paid or received (if applicable)
